Church Building Update

The diocesan buildings committee recently met to review the situation with regard to our church building here in St Finian's. They have decided that ALL block work affected by pyrite should be removed so that we don't find ourselves facing similar problems in the future.

They recommend that we engage the services of an architect to find a solution. The parish finance committee are actively in discussion with the diocesan authorities.

As we go along we will keep you updated in the parish newsletter and on the website www.stfiniansparish.com
